

State Department Update

Recent efforts led by the State Department led to the formation of the Regional Lionfish Committee (RLC) to address the lionfish invasion in the Wider Caribbean. The State Department, representing the U.S. on the new RLC, is working with regional partners on activities geared towards coordinating the regional response to this invasion. The State Department has also secured funds for lionfish activities related to RLC actions and priorities.